

Who are we?

Kumulus - the Centre for Education in the Arts is the place to be for those wishing to take up music, dance, theatre or art classes.

We have also recently opened two new departments - the school for writers and the arts awareness course.

Besides providing lessons we also organise workshops and short courses for both primary and secondary education, and we provide tailor-made courses for private individuals and companies. The Office of Amateur Arts supports all amateur arts in Maastricht.

A distinct advantage of taking lessons at the Kumulus is that there is plenty of opportunity to put what you have learnt into practise via concerts, presentations, exhibitions and dance and drama productions. Lessons are provided by fully qualified professionals. There are some 135 teachers at Kumulus and 35 supporting staff.

We are a highly dynamic organisation and will do our utmost to ensure that above all you enjoy your chosen activity.

We will be pleased to welcome you at Kumulus. We look forward to seeing you soon.

The Music School

The Kumulus Music school provides lessons in all kinds of instruments for children, teenagers and adults. And of course you can always take up singing lessons. Lessons are split into the General and Classical Department and the "Lighthouse of Music - Pop/ Jazz". In addition to the regular music and singing lessons, there are also short courses both for children and adults, for example our theory and improvisation lessons, which are linked to the practical courses. And there are Orientation courses which will help you to choose the right instrument for you. But that's not all. We also offer courses in composing/ managing and listening to classical music, initiation courses to be a drum band instructor and learning to write your own songs.

Visual Arts

The Visual Arts Department offers a whole range of courses, where everyone can express their creativity at his/ her own pace and own level under the supervision of experienced teachers. During the year a variety of workshops, excursions and exhibitions will be organised, and at the end of the season (April) there will be an exhibition displaying work from all students from all classes. There are lessons for all ages and all interests. There is the Children's Academy (for children from 2½ to 12 years of age), "Art4You" for young people over the age of 12, drawing and painting, interior design, audio-visual and graphic arts, Foundation Academy of Arts course and the Saturday Academy of Arts.

Arts Awareness (Visual Arts, Music, Dance, Theatre and Literature)

Kumulus has recently set up a new course on "Arts awareness". This course offers you the opportunity to broaden and deepen your knowledge of the arts. A varied programme has been put together ranging from presentations, speeches, short courses, to excursions and workshops under the supervision of professional artists and art historians.

The course covers music and dance, theatre, visual arts and literature. Arts awareness involves discovering new things. All arts are a product of their environment or a reflection of their time. You will be able to compare developments and trends within varying disciplines.

You will discover that a specific art form rarely stands alone but can be found in more disciplines.
